

14,000-Acre Regional Airport to Be 20 Miles South of Here

The new $350 million jetport for St. Louis will be built in Illinois—19 miles southeast of St. Louis in the triangle between Waterloo, Columbia and Hannibal. The huge site is about 20 miles south of the Quad-Cities.

Members of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority yesterday afternoon approved the site selection and confirmatory engineering studies. Chairman Robert B. Lamkin presided at the special meeting of the Authority, held at Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. The Authority members include Howard W. Kaseberg of Granite City.

"This recommendation is the result of painstaking study and effort on the part of this board and our consultants. With the completion of these studies, we have taken a major step on the road to building the much-needed new airport for St. Louis," Lamkin said.

"In terms of site development, the site is convenient to travelers, minimal dislocation of families and businesses, and impact on the environment, the Waterloo site clearly the superior location in the metropolitan region.

"The development of the airport assures that the St. Louis region will remain a major transportation hub and connecting point.

"It will open a door to better air travel in the future, stimulate exciting economic development, and greatly expand employment opportunities in all of the two-state region."

Nationally recognized airport consultants, R. Dixon Speas Associates of Manhattan, N.Y., conducted the studies of the Airport Authority.

The site selection study evaluated 18 possible sites in Missouri and Illinois and made confirmatory engineering studies of three prime Illinois sites.

Executive Director Arven

H. Saunders said the new airport will encompass between 14,000 and 20,000 acres. Initially, there will be two main runways 10,000 feet long and expandable to 12,000 feet, augmented by an 8,000-foot crosswind runway.

The recommended site lies 19 miles from downtown St. Louis and 25 miles from the area's most recently established center of passenger origin.

Studies indicate that the center of passenger origin in 1990 will move a maximum of one and one-half miles to the west. The Authority yesterday also released a preliminary environmental impact statement prepared with the assistance of Arthur D. Little, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass., as required by federal statute.

The Little report concurred in the site selection and said there will be no significant environmental problems. Lamkin commented:

"Under the phased construction program we anticipate, initially we will be building on only a relatively small portion of the acreage proposed."

"Accordingly, we plan to lease back to farmers and home owners the land we buy from them and allow them to use it for several years.

"In addition, we plan to make topsoil removed for construction available for farm use. Farming can and should continue on much of the acreage even after completion of the airport."

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie, whose recommendation was the first step in creating the Airport Authority, gave this comment to Chairman Lamkin:

"I commend the members of the Authority for reaching this significant step and pledge to each of you my continued full cooperation and support."

"This administration is and I personally am prepared to give you maximum assistance to make the airport a reality as soon as possible.

"In the important matter of access roads, I intend to do everything necessary to provide for convenient travel to the airport," Gov. Ogilvie added.

Lamkin said the Authority will cooperate fully with the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council and all other regional planning groups. He said citizen committees will be formed to assure local participation in the project.

Lamkin emphasized that the economic and travel benefits of the new airport "are going to ignore the boundary lines of cities, counties and states.

"The benefits will go to literally millions of persons in this important Midwestern metropolitan area."

"I especially wish to thank," Chairman Lamkin added, "the other members—William S. Badgley of Belleville, Theodore H. Dressel of Lebanon, Erwin A. Hankamer of Columbia and Howard W. Kaseberg of Granite City—for their cooperation and counsel."

"This most important step today could not have been possible without a vast amount of (Continued on page 3, col. 1)

Treatment Cost Estimate Soars To $15 Million

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Construction of secondary sewage treatment facilities for Granite City—including a treatment plant, interception sewers and provisions to accommodate stormwater overflow—will cost approximately $15.3 million, the city council was informed in its meeting Monday night.

The cost estimate, more than double that announced previously by Mayor Donald Partney, will be the basis of applications for federal and Illinois state grants now being prepared, the council was told.

Raymond Howard, representing the M. W. Architects - Engineering, Inc., an Indianapolis-based firm chosen six weeks ago as Granite City's engineer in development of plans for secondary sewage treatment installations, told the council during a half-hour discussion of a preliminary engineering report that the proposed treatment plant will cost about $6.2 million of the total.

Interceptor sewers will cost another $3.6 million and facilities to handle stormwater overflow—which include a pumping station of large capacity—will cost about $3.2 million, Howard said.

Total Includes Fees
"This brings construction cost to about $13 million," the engineer told the aldermen, adding that "contingencies, engineering costs, legal fees and other items will bring the total to approximately $15.3 million."

According to Howard, 80% of the cost will be borne by state and federal grants which would mean the city share would amount to about $3 million, or 20%.

But, Howard said, "we (the engineers) have been in contact with the Housing and Urban Development Agency (HUD) and we believe it is possible we may obtain half of that amount (the city's share) in a grant from HUD." He said applications for this grant also are being prepared.

Madison School Balloting City Role in Election Win by Kemp Charged

By MARION BARTOSIAK
Press-Record Staff Writer

Milton Morris, Venice manufacturer active in civic affairs, criticized Mayor John Lee and the Venice City Council—charging them with meddling in the Madison School District election last month—during a council meeting Tuesday night. The district includes part of Venice.

He displayed a copy of a letter sent to residents of North Venice who voted in the Madison School election asking them to help the candidacy of Theodore Kemp in his bid for school board membership.

The letter, on city stationery and signed by the mayor, directed them to "see the aldermen who will be around the polls at the Blair School and they will tell you what to do."

He prefaced his remarks by commenting that political activity by a city in school affairs is not conducive to the economic health of the community, which he said he has been attempting to boost for many years.

Losing Industry
"We are losing some industry town," he said. "John-Manville is a complete loss. I had an opportunity to develop the John-Manville plant, and I contacted a couple of companies to move here. They were agreeable if I stay involved in it."

He said "the success of the community is related to the people... We need industry for 300 people, and we need the type of industry for women."

Morris then pointed to the letter and added, "This is a very glaring example of what is happening in this city. He said the same support was given Kemp by Madison city officials."

After Morris was accused of being concerned because the candidate he favored was defeated, Mayor Lee ruled that the discussion was political and ordered the continuance of the meeting.

Argument Continues
After the meeting, Alderman John Ervin briefly continued the argument with Morris. Ervin said that Morris was knowledgeable of political conditions between the city and school operations, that candidate Morris favored had won election the same way 19 years ago through the efforts of the late Mayor Stephen Maestas of Madison.

The defeated candidate was Oet Blumensack, employed by Morris' Milnor firm.

Morris retorted that Blumensack had retired from the board in mind but was offered (Continued on page 5, col. 3)

Quad-City area voters—in extremely tight voting—nominated two Democrat and two Republican candidates for two trusteeships of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District Tuesday in an election sparked only by a close contest for one of the Republican nominations by two write-in candidates.

The two Democratic nominations were won by Von Dec Cruse and Walter D. Great house, both of Granite City, while the Republican nominations went to John Mangiaracino of Venice and Lester Thiele of Granite City.

Thiele, of 1509 St. Clair Ave., won the second spot on the Republican ballot by a margin of only one vote over Mrs. Elsie

Legislation on Area Incinerator

An incinerator to cope with Quad-City area trash—suggested by citizens at March 8 "congress of community progress" discussions held at Granite City High School—may become a reality.

If local municipalities want the Tri-City Regional Port District to serve as the governmental entity to build and operate an incinerator or other waste disposal mechanism, the Port District is willing to do so.

Port officials will continue to regard development of shipping and industrial activity as their main goal. However, they will also proceed with incineration, providing that the public and governmental leaders conclude that this is the simplest solution to the growing disposal problem.

Existing Port District enabling legislation may be sufficient to permit the district to take such a role. But in case such authority needs to be spelled out further in Illinois statutes, an appropriate House bill has been introduced by State Rep. Horace Calvo (D, Granite City), it was announced today.

Economics Uncertain
Economic feasibility of specific disposal procedures has not yet been determined. Extensive joint planning sessions with participating municipalities would be necessary while the proposal is being perfected, it is believed.

Introduction of the legislation was preceded by a special Port District board meeting at which the request for broader authority was prepared.

The general subject of waste disposal and other recommendations of the "community progress congress" were discussed at Tuesday night's May meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board, held at the Rose Bowl.

The Chamber board voted to purchase and distribute 5,000 copies of a "crime check" brochure outlining ways neighborhoods can thwart law violations.

The Chamber directors commended the Youth Committee and its chairman, Melvin L. Gilie, for 1970-71 activities and presented a plaque to John Schodroski, chosen by the Youth Committee as outstanding Venice High School student.

President Albert H. Froelich, in a speech, reviewed the 1971 U. S. Chamber convention, where talks were given by President Nixon, Urban Development Secretary Romney and Treasury Secretary Connolly on welfare reform, revenue sharing and executive branch reorganization.

Progress Congress Chairman C. H. Sternberg announced that Thomas Kolesa has succeeded Howard W. Kaseberg as chairman of the Planning Committee.

Date of the annual Chamber "play day" was announced as June 15.

Mrs. Jo Meyer, Women's Division chairman, reported on community beautification plans.

Negotiating Teams
Chief spokesman for the school district in the negotiations is Assistant Supt. Frank Kraus. Also participating are President Carl Macios, Secretary George Moore Sr., Personnel Director R. Tom Jones and two principals, Gilbert Walmsley and Arthur Menendez. A school position is held open for permit various specialists to participate.

Heading the Local 743 group are President Richard Huff and Robert Johnson, Salary and Policy Committee chairman. With them are John Boyer, Barry Freedman, Don Schaffner, Mary Shirley Stoll and Mrs. Dede Hodges.

At school board meeting Monday night, Principal Menendez and a group of Mitchell School parents reviewed traffic

New City Appointment Challenge

The long-standing dispute between city council members and Mayor Donald Partney as to appoint certain city officers to appointments were accepted by the council meeting Monday night despite a circuit court ruling that was believed to have settled the issue.

The controversy was revived as the city began its new fiscal year with new committee appointments submitted by the council.

A court ruling March 18 by Associate Circuit Judge Howard L. White held that Partney does not have the authority to appoint the fire and police chiefs, and that he has no authority to make 30-day appointments as a means of circumventing council action on these appointments.

Partney maintains, however, that the ruling by Judge White has not yet been entered as a final court order and that he (the mayor) has appealed the ruling.

As a result, Mayor Partney named Fronbarger fire chief on a 30-day basis after the council refused Monday night to approve the full-year appointment.

Failing in the full-time Fronbarger appointment, Mayor Partney then submitted the appointment of Police Chief Ronald Veizer on a full-year basis.

Alderman Clyde Boyd remarked that "this is ridiculous. It is embarrassing to our police chief and the police department. It is not the chief we are appointing."

Progress in School Talks; Trial May 13

Considerable progress has been made in talks between the Granite City Schools and teachers. The Press-Record learned today. There is hope that an agreement covering the next year or two may be reached before the spring terms ends 1971.

Negotiating teams began weekly meetings Feb. 15 and the atmosphere is viewed by the participants as encouraging. The present agreement with American Federation of Teachers Local 743 expires this summer.

Raises are expected to be granted and the precise amount is the main point not yet agreed upon. Much may depend on the outcome of a Circuit Court trial May 13.

The court issue is whether the school district is obligated under its 1969 pact to use all or part of a 1970 state tax aid increase for faculty salaries. The difference between the two interpretations is several hundred thousand dollars.

Two courses were open. They could build additions to the plants in St. Louis, or they could build a new plant on comparatively cheap land near St. Louis, develop a city there and recover their investment through resultant rises in real estate values.

The latter proved most attractive and they began to look about for a suitable site. As told by George W. Niedringhaus, (1865-1928), son of William F.:

"Their plan was to build a new city north of St. Louis in a district known then and still known as the Spanish Flats. The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad had graded a right-of-way through this land and gave the impression that the road would be built within a year.

"However, on approaching the president of the railroad, my brother told me that the construction of the road was in definite.

"It was then decided to expand on property adjoining the North St. Louis rolling mill.

"Sufficient property was bought with the exception of a small piece of ground that was necessary to round out the tract, but was held by people owning it at an exorbitant figure.

"Then, too, a blind street... ran through our property. And while the street had never been opened, being public property it precluded using it for building purposes.

"Efforts were made to have this street vacated, for which the Messrs. Niedringhaus offered to pay a good price.

"Opposition developed in the council, which finally resulted in our giving up all thought of building in north St. Louis and we began looking for a new location.

COST WILL RUN HIGH. Construction of secondary sewage treatment facilities will cost about $15.3 million, Raymond Howard, standing at charts with pointer, tells Granite City Council members. Consul to Be Honored at Fiesta Saturday

Miss Ana Marie Bartling, Mexican Consul in St. Louis, and members of the consulate staff, will be honored guests at the "Cino de Mayo Fiesta," to be given by the Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Venice-Madison American Legion Home, 740 Broadway, Venice.

The fiesta celebration which annually attracts several hundred participants is open to the public. Tickets, at $2 for adults and $1.50 for children, are available from commission members, at business firms or may be purchased at the door for $2.50 each adult patron. St. Elizabeth Plans Busy Hospital Week

The 50th annual Hospital Week will be observed by more than 7,000 hospitals across the nation beginning Sunday, May 9, with the theme, "Your Hospital Cares . . . But Who Loves a Hospital?"

Sister Mary Thomas, administrator, reports, "The growing role of St. Elizabeth Hospital as a vital part of our Quad-City community will be highlighted during this next week."

"We are growing and expanding, but never will we lose sight of the fact that we are always a place of 'people caring for people'."

Hospital Week events at St. Elizabeth were ushered in a week early this week with an informational breakfast for the Quad-City clergy on Monday. On Tuesday, Mayors Donald Partney of Granite City, Mike Sasyk of Madison, Dr. John Lee of Venice and Thomas Stalcoff of Pontoon Beach jointly proclaimed May 8-15 as Hospital Week in the Quad-City area.

To officially open Hospital Week, the Ministerial Association has been asked to include the ill, injured and those caring for them in their sermons and prayers Sunday.

Honor First Infant

A donor of roses and a layette will be given to the mother of the first child born at St. Elizabeth during Hospital Week. The annual pancake supper, hosted by the hospital's public relations committee, will be given Monday, May 10, from 5 to 7:30 p.m. The public is invited. Proceeds from the supper go to the Employees' Special Fund.

The Nurses' Alumnae Tea will be given Tuesday evening. On Wednesday flowers will be given to the oldest man and lady patients of the hospital.

The annual buffet breakfast for the medical staff will be given in the hospital library on Thursday, beginning at 7:30 a.m.

Service Awards
Honoring employees who have been with the hospital for five, 10, 15 and 20 years, will be given on Thursday, May 13, at 3:30 p.m.

During the week, a collage featuring pictures of babies born at St. Elizabeth Hospital will be on display in the hospital lobby.

An employee photo collage will be on display at four Quad-City banks.

The Inhalation Therapy Department will give presentations on emergency resuscitation at the First Granite City National Bank on Monday; Granite City Trust and Savings Bank, Tuesday; First National Bank in Madison, Wednesday, May 12; and American National Bank on Thursday.

We highlighted our hospital during this week," Sister Mary Thomas said, "but St. Elizabeth has a definite and growing concern for the well-being of every person in our community, and not for one minute do we forget it."

The new addition will be ready for occupancy during the late summer.

The new addition will give patients 200 additional patients beds, new emergency and operating rooms, physical therapy material and intensive care units.

"We'll be able to do more than ever to meet the community's health needs, and yet hold to the line in medical costs because of the functional planning."

'War Game' to be Shown at SIU-SW

"The War Game," a film written and directed by Peter Watkins and produced by the British Broadcasting Corp., will be presented at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Monday at 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. in Meridian Hall of the University Center.

First refused by BBC "because it was too horrible for public showing," the film has been described as "a work of truth."

Writing for the London Observer, Kenneth Tynan said, "I suspect that it may be the most important film ever made. We are always being told that works of art cannot change the course of history. Given wide enough dissemination, I believe this one might."

"The War Game" is sponsored at SIU-SW by the Artist-Lecture Series and is open to the public, admission free.

Mrs. Sandy Innes is Kiwanis Club Speaker

Mrs. Sandy Innes was the guest speaker Monday evening during a Kiwanis Club dinner given at the Rose Bowl. Twelve members and four visitors from the O'Fallon Kiwanis Club attended.

She spoke on the hardships and uncertainties of being the wife of a serviceman who is either missing in action or a prisoner of war in Vietnam.

Mrs. Innes' husband, Roger Innes, has been listed as missing in action four years, with no confirmation of his status. She said letters and packages had been accepted for her husband for three years, but the last Christmas package was returned the day before Easter.

Col. James Cook, a member of the O'Fallon Kiwanis Club who is stationed at Scott Air Force Base, told the group of practices used by North Vietnam to conceal the actual number of prisoners of war.

Col. Cook believes the prisoners are well treated and that they do not want to be held accountable for them after the war is ended. There have been 23 announced POW deaths during the past year, with explanation or cause given.

The diet and treatment of prisoners was discussed by Col. Cook as well as current efforts for release of these men.

The club pledged its support of future projects Mrs. Innes undertakes pertaining to prisoner information.

Lawrence Lockhart Honored for Service

Lawrence Lockhart, 2116 Lind Blvd., was the recipient of an award for meritorious service to the tuberculosis patients of Illinois from the Illinois Association of Tuberculosis Treatment Boards Tuesday at the Association's annual meeting at the Ramada Inn, Peoria.

The citations were presented by Otto L. Bettag, M.D., president of the association and medical director of the DuPage County Care and Treatment Board, and reads as follows:

"Recognition award—The Illinois Association of Tuberculosis Treatment Boards expresses its deep appreciation to Lawrence Lockhart, president of the Madison County TB Sanatorium Board, for dedicated service in the fight against tuberculosis in Illinois and for recognition of devoted effort in support of programs and activities of the Illinois Association of Tuberculosis Treatment Boards."

"The IATTB is composed of 84 tuberculosis treatment Boards throughout the state responsible for the expenditure of approximately $20 million annually for the detection, treatment and ultimate eradication of tuberculosis."

"The citations were the second awarded by the association. Eight others received the award."

Ernest French, 77, of 604 Schiller Ave., St. Louis, a retired custodian for the Kummelmann Co. of Granite City, died at home at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday following a six-year illness.

Mr. French is survived by a sister, Mrs. Georgia Halbert of the St. Louis address.

Funeral arrangements are given in today's obituary column.

3,500 Acres

Railroad was under construction about this time and the Merchants' Bridge also was partially completed. We were subscribers to this terminal company, believing this service necessary for the development of St. Louis.

"One afternoon (August 1891) it was decided to take a trip to the east side of the Mississippi River, following the new terminal right-of-way.

"We crossed on the North Market Street Ferry, drove over the old Alton Road, crossing the C. & A. and other tracks at a small station at that time called Kinder, where Niedringhaus Avenue (now) crosses these tracks.

"The country was a very prosperous community at that time and the farms all seemed to be kept in such excellent condition.

"We drove to a point, probably attracted by a beautiful formed elm tree over 100 feet in diameter which was at that time on the property now owned by the Hoy Metal Company. . . . We spent some time in looking over the property from this point and I recall my father's remark that this would make an ideal site for the city such as we contemplated.

"On a subsequent trip to Kinder Station, the Niedringhaus met Mark Henson, Kinderhook school teacher, whom they employed as their land agent. "Henson obtained options on 3,500 acres. Satisfied with this tract, which included the highest land in the area, the Niedringhaus purchased it in 1892.

"The river rose to 36 feet that year, flooding lowlands at Kinder station and other sections of the American Bottoms; but this, if the expression may be used, did not throw cold water on the Niedringhaus' plans.

"In the spring of 1893 they hired the city engineer of St. Louis to lay out Granite City. The plat was filed at Edwardsville on May 20, 1893.

"The town site occupied a slight elevation on what had been the corn field of William E. Barco. Each block was divided into lots 50 feet wide.

"Longitudinal streets extended northeast and southwest in gridiron fashion, except Niedringhaus Avenue, a broad diagonal thoroughfare which ran due east and west.

"Niedringhaus Avenue had the added distinction of being the only street with a formal name; the others bore numbers or letters of the alphabet.

"A round plot at the intersection of Twentieth Street and Niedringhaus Avenue was designated as Circle Park.

"Free sites for churches were reserved in the potential residential area.

"Industrial sites lay along the right-of-way of three railroads at the west. A projected belt line encompassed the whole tract like a string tied around a bundle."

The sons of William F. and Frederick G. wanted the place to be called Niedringhaus, but the fathers chose the name Granite City, commemorating the product — granite ware — that had made them wealthy.

Lamkin also expressed gratitude for the "extremely cooperative and pleasant working relations we have enjoyed with Mayor Alphonso J. Cervantes and other city officials."

He continued, "Both the mayor and the Authority, approach this tremendous undertaking with one thought in common: 'What is best for the people in this area regardless of their location?' We pledge ourselves to work constructively with all the officials of Missouri and Illinois for the good of the entire region.

"We shall continue our efforts in this spirit because we need the understanding, the cooperation and the enlightened self-interest of all citizens to meet their air travel needs here."

Council Agrees to Sell Damaged Fire Truck

City council members changed their minds Monday night and voted to accept a bid of $300 for the 1947 LaFrance fire truck that was damaged extensively in an accident at 27th Street and Madison Avenue last month.

The bid by the Mueller Equipment Repair Co. was the only one received in response to advertisements. The council rejected the offer in its April 26 meeting as being too low.

projected a total cost of $7.5 million for the secondary treatment program, including $4.5 million for construction of a secondary treatment plant and about $3 million for building interceptor sewers.

Howard said the engineers have been meeting with state and federal officials "and we are in agreement on the basic phase of the program." He said a few details remain to be worked out before applications for grants are filed "such as how far we should go in preparing for a 50-year rainfall occurrence."

Using maps and charts, Howard explained to council members where facilities of the new system would be located and how the "legs" of the interceptors would tie in with various city areas.

Planning for facilities to handle stormwater overflow is based on a projected volume of 150 million gallons of water per day at a peak 50-year rainfall, the engineer told the aldermen.

Alderman Walter Nomm asked Howard if planning included the prospect of handling water flow from Granite City Steel Co. in the event the company ever desired to change its present system.

"No industrial provisions. "We have not," Howard said. "In fact we have not included provisions for any industrial drainage since industry pays its own tab for such service and it is not likely federal or state grants would be authorized to subsidize a municipal service for private industry. In addition," Howard added, "the volume of industrial drainage is an unknown quantity. Providing drainage for industry is a whole new ball game."

Howard told the council also that the engineers are conferring with officials of Nameoki, Venice and Chouteau township concerning plans for a Quad-City area sewerage system. He said it has not been determined how the area-wide program will tie in with the Granite City system, but that it is possible the townships may want to use Granite City treatment facilities.

Area Plan Group May Move to Granite City

With the Southwestern Metropolitan Area Planning Commission having outgrown its offices in Collinsville, a move to the Labor Temple here, to some other local building or to a Fairview Heights site reportedly is being considered.

The staff currently is situated at two buildings and hopes to find a single location large enough to accommodate it. The move may take place in June.

Outdoor Workshops Set at Carbondale

Workshops in outdoor education and conservation education have been scheduled between June 14 and July 9 by the Southern Illinois University department of conservation and outdoor education. Each workshop carries four hours of college credit.

Paul Nowak, department chairman, said the outdoor education workshop, to be held June 14-23 at SIU's Outdoor Laboratory east of Carbondale, will focus on developing philosophy and strategies for implementing school curriculum outside the school building. Field experiences will emphasize methods and techniques for working with children outdoors. The conservation workshop, to be held at the same location June 28 to July 9, will strive to acquaint teachers and administrators with ecology and conservation.

C., June 2 through June 6.

Region Seven includes the states of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and part of Ohio.

Chester Walton, president of Explorer Post 89 sponsored by Miles Laboratories Inc., and John Schulte, president of Post 33 sponsored by the Trinity Lutheran Church in Edwardsville, also will attend the conference and will be campaign managers for Hooks.

Hooks' trip will be sponsored jointly by the Madison Lions Club and the Madison Police Club Unit 110, co-sponsors of Post 10-4, a law enforcement specialty post.

Hooks is an Eagle Scout, secretary of the Cahokia Lodge Order of the Arrow, and is active in civic and religious affairs.

A graduating senior at Assumption High School, he plans to major in criminology, and attend Northern Illinois University in DeKalb where he plans to study under the noted criminologist, Dr. Clyde Vedder.

Campaign funds are being earned by the members of his post through car washes and the sale of Scout-rama tickets.

While in Washington, the 2,500 Explorers at the conference will be entertained on the White House lawn by President Nixon who will be honorary chairman of the event.

The purpose of the conference is to give the Explorer members an actual voice in the program of the Boy Scouts of America's Exploring Division.

OK Negotiations for Drainage Easements

An ordinance accepting a plan for drainage improvements in the Dobrey Slough area by the Illinois Division of Waterways and authorizing negotiations and condemnation proceedings, if necessary, to acquire needed parcels of right-of-way, was approved by the East St. Louis, Levee and Sanitary District yesterday.

The ordinance points out that the state agency has been unable to acquire easements over one tract of land owned by Wilbert and Georgia Engle and another tract owned by Joseph and Ethel Gieszmann. It authorizes William "Mike" Eberhart of V & C, and Harry Hartman, levee district attorney, to negotiate for the right-of-way.

The ordinance also states that if negotiations are unsuccessful, John J. Hoban, also a levee district attorney, and Hartman, are authorized to institute court proceeding under the eminent domain laws.

The levee board Wednesday also accepted a proposal by Swift & Co., which is constructing new facilities at National Stock Yards, for sewage treatment at the levee district's Lansdowne sewage treatment plant. Action by the board on the proposal will open the way for a contract between the company and the district, to be prepared later.

Lester Thiele

riede Barr, 4 Terrace Lane, Thiele polled a total of 25 votes in Granite City, Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau townships (the Madison county sector of the levee district), while Mrs. Barr received 34 write-in votes.

Because the write-in tally was so close, County Clerk Eulalia Hotz declined to declare a winner for the second GOP nomination until completion of the official canvass, which was conducted at Edwardsville yesterday morning. In addition, 19 other persons, some of them Democrats, received write-in votes on the Republican ballot ranging from a single vote for most of them to 17 votes for Steve Nemeth.

Three in Race

Three candidates were on the Democratic ballot in a bid for two Democrat nominations. The loser was Dale Higgins of Granite City, humane officer for the city of Greater St. Louis.

Cruse, 47, of 24014 Edwards St., polled the highest tally, receiving 1,743 votes in all 56 voting precincts of the four townships.

Greathouse, 34 Riviera Drive, polled 1,430 votes and Higgins, 2923 Iowa St., tallied 616 votes. Greathouse is 50.

Mangiaracino, who lives at 1004 Third St., Venice, polled 594 out of the total Republican vote of 344 ballots cast in all 56 polling places of the four townships.

In a similar election in the four townships of the St. Clair County portion of the levee district—East St. Louis, Canton, Stites and Centreville—voters nominated three Democrats and three Republicans. The Democratic candidates nominated in St. Clair County for the runoff election, if one is held, are Ronel Wilson, 2,903 votes; Leroy G. Roberts, 2,763 votes; and Eddie Frank Ezell, 2,267 votes. All live in East St. Louis.

Nominated on the Republican ticket were Carey Cason, 714 votes; James Pirtle, 713, both of East St. Louis, and Rufus Burns of Centreville, 653 votes.

Governor Ordered Election Tuesday's election was a special primary ordered by Governor Richard Ogilvie following the conviction of the four present members of the levee board on charges of misconduct in office. Ogilvie maintained their conviction automatically removed the trustees from office. The present board has operated with four members since the death of Joseph Grant of Granite City early in 1969.

Two Women Injured In Highway Accident

Two women were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:50 p.m. Wednesday with injuries sustained in a traffic accident on Route 111 and East Chain of Rocks Road.

They are Mrs. Virginia L. Rutledge, 44, of Beltholt, who was transferred to St. Anthony's Hospital, Alton, with head, chest, arm and leg injuries, and Miss Janice Hinkley, 22, of 3129 Delmar Ave., who was released following treatment for injuries to the head, knees and right elbow.

Miss Hotz reported a total vote of 2,475 Democratic ballots and 297 Republican votes were cast in the four Quad-City area townships.

Voters were extremely light with only 1182 Democratic and 207 Republican votes cast in the 57 precincts of Granite City township. In Venice, however, a more intensive campaign in behalf of the Democratic candidates Cruse and Greathouse brought out 1,039 votes, or only a few less than the total cast in Granite City.

There were 11 voting precincts in Venice compared to the 32 in Granite City. Nameoki received a light vote also, with only 228 Democratic votes and 49 Republican votes cast in the 11 polling places there.

21 Chouteau Votes

The two voting precincts of Chouteau township that are within the district, Precincts One and Two, tallied a total of 16 Democratic votes and five Republican votes.

The primary was held Tuesday after a circuit court ruling at Belleville turned down a request for an injunction to halt the balloting. The proceedings were filed in behalf of the four members of the levee board.

Associate Circuit Judge Howard Lee White, in ruling against the injunction, reserved his ruling as to a scheduled June 22 runoff election in which five board members would be elected from among the seven nominated Tuesday. Judge White is to rule on that matter Monday. Thiele is employed as a locomotive crane driver in the railroad department of Granite City Steel Co. He is a Republican committeeman of Precinct 20 and a member of Masonic Lodge 877 and United Steelworkers Local 16.

He also is president of the Metro-East Antique Auto Club. Thiele is married and has one daughter and two grandchildren.

$75,000 Stage Shell Planned at SIU-SW

Plans are being prepared for a permanent shell-style cover for the SIU-SW outdoor stage area, where a tent used for the past two years is beyond repair. A tentative plan calls for the $75,000 cost to be divided between university operating funds and the student welfare development fund.

Alderman R. E. Robertson pointed out that "everyone received a copy of the judge's report . . . the judge has ruled in this case . . . there is no question of our rights under that order."

"That action is not completed," Mayor Partney replied. Robertson called for City Clerk Robert Stevens to obtain a copy of the court order. City Attorney Leon Scroggins pointed out, however, that the court ruling was a "memorandum" and a final court order has not been entered.

Alderman Sam Whitmer made a motion that the council concur in Verne J. Baker voting "yes." Opposing the motion were Aldermen Walter Nunn, Steve Basarich, Boyd, William Dallas, Gerald Parnley, Robert, Roy Poulos, Claude Green, Emerald Dawes, Everett Morlen and Paul Schuler.

Robertson submitted a list of committee appointments and moved for concurrence, but Parnley amended the proposed committee listings to exclude himself from the Finance and Special Negotiating Committees.

Parnley said he did not want to serve on the Finance Committee, the Special Negotiating Committee was to have gone out of existence upon completion of the water franchise agreement recently accepted by both the city and the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co.

Parnley cast the only "yes" vote on the amendment, and the committee list was approved as originally drawn.

Mayor Partney pointed out that it is his prerogative to name the chairman of the committees and that he will present those appointments in the next meeting of the council on May 17.

The committee lineups approved by the council are: Finance—Baker, Parnley and Whitmer; Ordinance—Poulos, Nunn and Basarich; Street and Alley—Nunn, Green and Boyd; Police—Poulos, Morlen and Robertson; Fire and Water—Dawes, Boyd and Nunn; Special Sewer—Rutledge, Parnley and Dawes; Human Relations—Baker, Rutledge and Green; Light—Basarich, Green and Dallas; Printing—Baker, Whitmer and Morlen; Co-Extensive Township—Rutledge, Baker and Poulos; Special Negotiating—Parnley, Rutledge and Baker; City Building—Boyd, Basarich and Dawes.

Mayor's Appointments Appointments announced by the mayor and approved by the council included:

Ernest Hubbard, assistant treatment plant superintendent; Thomas Reynolds, city painter; Douglas Greathouse, city hall custodian; Victor Koenig, civil defense director; Marge Hall, clerk inspection office; Nadine Harris, secretary police department, and Lavetta Russell, secretary police department.

GC Jaycees Name Talley In Brisk Vote Contest

Bill Talley, a Granite City steel millwright apprentice, was named president of the Granite City Jaycees last night during a spirited election meeting in which candidates were opposed for each office.

The annual balloting took place at the Jaycee clubhouse on Poplar Street, with the contest supervised by representatives of the Highland Jaycee Chapter. Vic Weatherholt of the local club served as election chairman for the evening.

Talley, who resides on Lake Drive in Pontoon Beach, previously served as Jaycee first vice-president. He succeeds in office, David Partney, who will head the Jaycee board of governors during 1971-72.

Installation ceremonies for incoming officers will take place at a dinner meeting Saturday, June 26, at the Rose Bowl restaurant.

INDOOR PLANTERS

House plants in indoor planters often die because of lack of light.

A normal light intensity to read a newspaper is only one-tenth the required light for rugged plants like snake plant (sansevieria), Chinese Evergreen (aglaonema), and dumb cane (dieffenbachia). Popular plants like peperomias and anthuriums require 5-6 times as much light energy.

If you have a stationary indoor planter as a room divider or to landscape an entrance or hallway you can supply enough light energy with an incandescent spotlight. Depending on the size of the planter, use one or two 100-150 watt spotlights placed 8-10 feet from the planter. When you light your spotlights 12-15 hours every day, your plants will thrive to produce an attractive interior planter.

GRASS IN THE SHADE

Keeping a respectable turf in shade areas of your lawn requires persistence and good management.

Annual reseeding and frequent fertilizing are the keys to a respectable turf in shade areas. Reseeding in early March will permit driving rains and foot traffic to plant the seed in the soft soil. These rains and warm weather will promote germination and good root development before the summer drought.

Use a seed mixture of 75% Penn Lawn Creeping Red Fescue and 25% Bluegrass. Apply 1 to 2 pounds of this combination per 1000 square feet of shady area. In open areas reverse the bluegrass-fescue combination.

Bluegrass seed and fescue seed cannot be sown together because of the difference in size. The small size of bluegrass seed compared to fescue results in the small seeds passing through your spreader first and fescue last. Scatter each type of seed separately for uniform coverage.

During the spring and summer fertilize 3 to 4 times at the bag rate and mow infrequently.

HOUSE PLANT PESTS

Jumping or flying insects can develop in the soil of your potted plants.

Spring tails and fungus gnats are common in garden soils and often occur in greenhouse. In normal situations in your garden or flower bed these insects are not harmful but can be a problem in indoor potted plants.

Springtails are good jumpers while fungus gnats appear as a tiny gray fly. Both are easily controlled by spraying the foliage and soil with a solution of

Raze, Construct New Niedringhaus Methodist Church

Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue, will launch a crusade for building funds during May. The funds will be used to replace the present sanctuary, which is structurally unsound. In a congregational meeting, a decision was made to build a new church at the present site.

The fund crusade will be directed by the Rev. Ray Platt of the Department of Finance and Field Service of The United Methodist Church. His home office is in New York City.

An intensive phase of the campaign will begin May 23 when Rev. Platt will arrive to preach to the Niedringhaus congregation. During the following three weeks, he will help recruit and commission members of the congregation to go to the homes for pledges from members.

Frohardt Drive Chairman General chairman of the building fund crusade will be Ralph Frohardt. Others who will serve on the executive committee are Carl Mathias, leadership gifts chairman; Louis Slate Jr., visitation chairman; and Mrs. Bruce Grushong, secretary.

The new sanctuary will seat 300 and will be built at street level, affording easy access to the building. The structure will include a church parlor, office center, youth center and chapel. Plans also call for enlargement of the present kitchen facilities.

The P. John Hoover architectural firm of St. Louis has designed the new building, which will be fully air-conditioned. The Rev. Roy Baugh is pastor and Maurice Hemphill is chairman of the church's administrative board.

Trojan Trackmen Fall To O'Fallon 70-57

The MHS Trojan cindermen fell 70-57 to O'Fallon in a dual meet Monday afternoon at O'Fallon.

The results of the meet were closer than the score indicated as with six firsts instead of the five obtained Madison had been in close contention. If Madison had won the mile relay, the final event of the meet, they would have been only three points short of victory, but O'Fallon finished in 3 minutes, 44.5 seconds, several seconds ahead of the Trojan squad.

First-place winners for the Trojans were Bobby Simms in the 100 (10.4), John Newsome in the 220 (24.5), Enory Wilson in the 440 (55.5) and Henry Rhodes in the shot put (49 feet, 6 1/2 inches).

The first three places in the shot put were claimed by the Trojans as Rhodes was backed by Robin Pritchard in second place and Royce Boyd in third. In the 80-yard relay, Simms, Newsome, Charles Johnson and Robert Pryor were first in 1 minute, 37.7 seconds.

The Trojans also claimed five other second places and eight other thirds, not including the sweep in the shot put. Second place winners were Bill Foster in the 880, Harvey Lee in the 120 hurdles and the 180 low hurdles (on a curve), Eugene Patton in the two-mile and Johnson in the long jump.

Third place winners were Johnson (300 Simms (220 and long jump), Walter Hamm (440), Mark Jimmerson (880), Chris Stanley (180 low hurdles), Newsome (high jump) and Patton (pole vault).

Umpire Clinic Set May 10-11 at Rink

A baseball umpires clinic will be held at 7:30 p.m. May 10-11 at the Wilson Park Ice Rink. Babe Champlin and Russ Chappell, both GCHS coaches, will conduct the clinic. Granite City Park District managers also may attend.

Nine 1sts Give GC Track Team 82-44 Runaway

The GCHS cindermen ran over the Kahoks in a dual meet here Tuesday by a score of 82 to 44, while the junior varsity managed an 85 to 42 victory.

Granite City won nine of the 15 events in better than average times, despite occasional rain and high winds.

Warriors first place winners were Stan Stajduhar in the 100-yard dash (10.4), Gene Briggs in the mile (4:42.5), Howard Bryant in the two mile (9:39.4), Rich Schooley in the low hurdles (21.1), Berry Schroeder in the high hurdles (16.1), Dave Bell in the pole vault (12 ft., 6 in.) and Brad Hiles in the discus (138 ft., 3 1/2 in.).

Cougars on Rampage, Start Road Trip Today

Coach Roy E. Lee was relatively sure that the 1971 edition of his Southern Illinois University-Southwestern baseball team would be a hard-hitting aggregation. He was right, but never in his wildest dreams did he expect the devastating attack he's been getting as the Cougars have romped to a 17-6 record.

In the three games won by SIU last week, the Cougars demolished Washington University of St. Louis, 23-3 and obliterated the University of Missouri, 24-1, and the three games Cougars batters hit at an astronomical .510 clip.

For the season, the club is hitting .311, 60 points above its opposition, including the pitchers. Without the hurlers, it's .321.

In racking up eight straight victories, Coach Lee has jelled his lineup to nine players, depending on the pitching the club is facing. That nine is currently batting at a sensational .356, with three averaging .400.

The trio of .400 hitters are Mike Allaria, catcher and outfielder, a junior from Edwardsville; Dan Cole, junior outfielder from St. Louis (Normandy High); and first baseman Mandy Macius, a junior from Springfield.

Shoulder Separation
Cole led the 1970 Cougars with a .389 average and his loss in the first game of the NCAA Mid-East playoff with a shoulder separation hurt SIU-SW's chances of winning that tourney.

Team captain and second baseman Dennis Schutzenhofer, Belleville, is knocking on the 400 door with a .389 figure. Jerry Plicher, veteran center-fielder from Collinsville, is next with .368 and has hit safely in the last nine games. Dan Weaver, last year's team captain from Alton who graduated, holds the consecutive game hitting record at 10 games.

Sophomore catcher Roger Belshe of Granite City is hitting .345, and is followed by John "Champ" Summers of Madison with .333, Rick Keefe, Belleville, .316, and John Bell, St. Louis (Fairview High), at .300.

Summers, a senior who didn't try to make the team last season as he concentrated on basketball, is far and away the team's best run-batted-in producer. He's batted in 31 runs and leads the club with six home runs. Last week he was ninth in the nation in four-batters for college division teams in the NCAA.

Blasts Grand Slam
Plicher is second in RBI's with 22. He was right on Summers' heels until Champ blasted a grand-slammer against the Rolla Miners Saturday and ended up the day's two games with seven.

The Big Three hurling staff, Steve Malone, Marion, Ron Middleton, Oblong, and Don "Ducky" Rains, Granite City, have 16 victories, and sophomore southpaw Mike Dickey, Flora, has the other win.

In a brilliant relief job Saturday,

Diamond Wins Over Alton, Kahoks Give Warriors Tie For All-Sports Trophy

With the defeat of Collinsville by the GCHS baseball Warriors 7-1 Monday and Alton 6-1 Tuesday GCHS is now tied with Alton in competition for the All Sports Trophy, awarded to the top school in the Southwestern Conference with the best overall athletic record.

The two wins now make GCHS 7-4 in the conference and 20-9 overall, having won the last seven straight games.

Collinsville was held to four hits and committed four errors while the Warriors garnered 11 hits and bobbled four times.

Vic Reznack went all the way on the mound for the Warriors, hurling six strike outs and giving up four walks. Reznack is now 7-1.

GCHS scored one run in the first inning, one in the fourth and five in the fifth. Collinsville's only run was in the sixth frame.

Big Fifth Frame
In that fifth, Reznack, Jack Scarborough and Mike DeRuntz singled and Mike DeRuntz walked to force in a run. Bill Parks hit a hard ground ball, and the Collinsville second baseman misused for two more runs.

Tim Lyerla then singled driving in an additional two. Parks hit a 400-foot triple which bounced off a telephone pole driving in Lyerla, in the fourth.

Alton totaled six hits and was charged with three errors as GCHS collected eight safeties and made three errors.

Neel Tapp went the distance for the Warriors and is now 3-1.

The Warriors served notice in the first inning as they scored five runs. Steve Burge hit a four bagger with Lyerla on base.

James Forrester walked, Scarborough singled and went to second on a wild throw, putting Forrester on third. Harris singled and DeRuntz grounded out, scoring Scarborough, and Lyerla singled to score Harris.

Defense Clicks
"Our defense was clicking as they managed three double plays," Coach Gale Garble noted. "Burdge is doing a real outstanding job. Tapp looked real good in the first part of the game; however he began to tire, but all they could hit was line drives right to us so we didn't get hurt. Alton was ahead of us in the All Sports Trophy competition and now we're tied, which makes me feel good. I definitely wanted baseball to carry its weight."

Scarborough and Harris are both hitting over .400 for the Warriors, which has helped move the team into third place in the Southwestern Conference. Wood River is in second and Belleville West in first.

The Warriors play Assumption Friday and will travel to Staunton Friday for the last game of the regular season.

Madison Triangular Won by Assumption

Assumption with 64 1/2 points topped Madison's 52 and Columbia's 41 1/2 to win a triangular track meet Tuesday at Madison.

Times were slowed by occasional rain and high winds, but the meet was uninterrupted. Madison finished with three first places and ties for first in two events, three second places and seven thirds.

Top honors went to Bobby Simms in the 100-yard dash (11 seconds) and Henry Rhodes in the shot put (47 ft., 2 1/2 in.) and in the discus (128 ft., 4 1/2 in.).

Photo finishes in the 220-yard dash and the mile relay were unresolved and the teams each took four points. Simms fought to the finish line with Columbia's Snider, in the 220, both finishing in 25.1 seconds, and the mile relay team of Robert Pryor, Mike Turner, Enory Wilson and Larry Evans finished neck and neck with the Assumption squad in 3 minutes, 47.5 seconds.

Second place honors went to Harvey Lee in the 120 high hurdles (19.4) and the 180 low hurdles (22.9) and the 880 relay team of Simms, John Newsome, Charles Johnson and Robert Pryor (1:41).

THUNDERBOLT

The ignition system with the fastest start in boating.
Only Merc. Every Merc.

No other outboard ignition system measures up to Thunderbolt. The difference is in the amount of voltage Thunderbolt delivers to the spark plugs, and how fast it gets there.

Thunderbolt zaps up to 40,000 volts to the spark plugs in microseconds. Fastest, hottest spark of any outboard. So fast, voltage doesn't have a chance to leak away. And Thunderbolt keeps the engine firing smooth as silk at all speeds from idle to flat out.

Put that together with Perma Gap spark plugs (Merco-pioneered Tungsten alloy center electrode), which are designed to last for several years of use, and you have the best ignition system on the water.

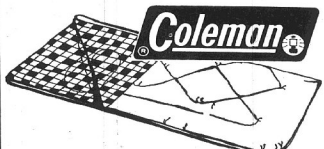

Ask any Merc owner. Or see your Mercury dealer. That's where you'll wind up anyway.

Two Prep Cagers Sign with Cougars

Jim Dudley, varsity basketball coach at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, has announced the signing of two outstanding Illinois high school players, Terry Hanner of Charleston, and Bob Lusk of Farmington.

Both are guards, although the 6-2 Hanner was used his senior year at forward. Lusk, at 5-11, was a deadly shot from 20 feet outside and averaged 23.7 points a game as he shot 55% from the field and 75% from the foul line.

Hanner, playing on a team which was 7-19 for the season, averaged 18.5 points a game. He ended his prep career as one of Charleston High's top 10 all-time high scorers with a total of 845 points in two years of varsity play.

GC Links Team Wins 2, Ties 2

Granite City High School's golf team finished a three-day home stand this week with two victories and two ties, defeating Collinsville and Wood River and matching Alton and Belleville East.

In a twin dual meet yesterday at Arlington Heights, the Warriors matched the Belleville squad with 182 strokes, and defeated Wood River which finished with 176.

Dave Roulund and Gary Zimmer were sharp with 39 strokes each yesterday, while Jack Elgin followed with 41, and Mike Willis, Bruce Lattimore and Pete Litz carded 43, 45 and 45 respectively. Mark Speer finished with 47.

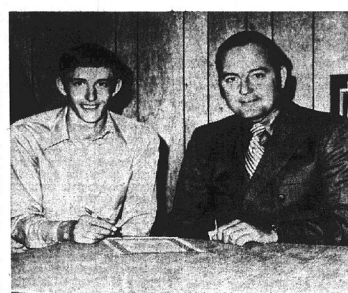

The golfers fought to avenge a loss to Alton last Thursday but could only manage a 173-stroke tie on the par 36 Arlington Heights course in a Monday outing. Last Thursday Alton downed Granite City 159-169 last week at Rock Springs.

Roulund lead the Warriors Monday with a six-over 42 and Zimmer followed one stroke back. Litz and Elgin carded 44's and Willis and Speer each had a 45. Lattimore trailed with 50.

The victory Tuesday snapped a five dual match winless streak with the 159 to 170 victory at Arlington, the lowest the Warrior squad has shot all season.

Roulund and Litz shot one over par rounds of 37. Elgin carded 40 and Zimmer and Speer bunched at 45. Willis used 46 strokes and Lattimore took 47.

Trojan Track Future Bright

Madison High School's trackmen tied for third place with Bethalto in the O'Fallon Relays yesterday as Mascoutah swept the event with 98 points. Roxana was second with 75 and Collinsville and Bethalto followed with 37.

Other schools were Triad 29, Assumption 28, Highland 26, Bethalto 13, Lebanon 12, Carlinville 10, Dupu 9, O'Fallon 8, Red Bud 2.

The Trojans made better showings in the freshmen and sophomore events, making Madison's outlook for next year a bright one.

The underclass squad was second in the 880-yard relay in 1:37.4, one-tenth of a second faster than the varsity performance. The freshmen and sophomores also placed third in the 440-yard relay in :48.7 while the varsity failed to place.

Madison claimed no first place honors but Robin Pritchard took second in the 100-yard dash in :11.1 and Henry Rhodes claimed third in the shot and discus.

Rhodes shot put was 51 feet, 9 1/2 inches, breaking the previous school record of 49 feet, 11 inches. In the discus event Rhodes threw 130 feet, 4 1/2 inches.

Bobby Simms finished fourth in the 100-yard dash in 1:12 seconds and Simms ran the first position on the fourth place sprint medley team with Emory Wilson, John Newsome and Bill Foster. Their time was 3:59.5.

The Trojans received good news this week as they were notified they had been moved from third to second position in the results of the April 29 Midwestern Conference sophomore meet. Second place Triad was disqualified for entering an ineligible trackman.

Prather Field Winners Named

After three weeks of intramural track competition at Prather Junior High School, the rankings in eight events were compiled and the names of the winners were announced this week.

Rick Smith won the eight-pound shot put with 44 feet, followed by Marion Becker and Bob Rippee.

Prothro Hurls Well But Trojans Bow

Courtney Prothro hurled a five-hitter but a late comeback attempt by Madison High School's baseball team fell short in a 4-2 loss at Dupu Monday.

Still failing to generate sufficient steam, the local Trojans succumbed to Highland 13-3 in a home game yesterday.

Dupu took a two-run first inning lead and added another in the fifth before the Trojans hit the scoreboard in the top of the sixth frame.

Carl Turner opened it with a hit, John Gardner was safe on an error and Austin Lewis was credited with an RBI with a ground-out.

In the seventh inning effort, Wayne Welborn singled with one out, and Bob Link, pinch hitting for catcher Rick Harper, advanced him to third, with a run scoring as Prothro hit to third. Turner walked, but the attack came to a halt there.

The Trojans were credited with six hits and committed two errors, while Dupu was charged with three miscues.

Prothro tried again on the mound yesterday but was greeted with the first of three Highland home runs in the first inning.

Fire Damages House

Fire in a vacant home at 322 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres, caused minor damage at 4:50 a.m. yesterday. The cause of the fire is unknown. Venice firemen extinguished the blaze in 25 minutes.

Firefighters' Union Local 253 of Granite City will seek revision of its working agreement with the city on 11 major points, the council was informed Monday night in a letter requesting arrangements for immediate negotiations.

Edward McGovern, president of the local, said a letter had been sent previously to the city council requesting a meeting with the Fire and Water Committee concerning the expiration of the contract between the city and the firefighters.

"As of this date we have had no correspondence from the city concerning our communication," McGovern said in the latest message which was addressed to Emerald Daves, chairman of the Fire and Water Committee.

The letter said: "Granite City Firefighters Local 253 would at this time like to request the city council to consider the following proposals:

Holiday Pay Base
"Holiday pay and call-out pay based on a 40-hour week week. Upon retirement, 50% of accumulated sick leave be paid.

"Reduction in hours from 56 to 48 hours in 1972, and reduction in hours from 48 to 42 in 1973.

"Call-out pay based on an eight-hour minimum.

"Whenever city hall or other city offices are closed, firefighters shall be paid double time while on duty.

"Easter Sunday and Washington's birthday shall be paid holidays.

"Paid hospital insurance for firefighters when retired.

"Whenever a firefighter moves up to engineer on a temporary basis, or an engineer moves up to captain on a temporary basis, he shall be paid comparable wages.

"Three firefighters placed on each piece of equipment.

"An assistant chief be on duty on each shift.

"An increase in wages to compensate for the cost-of-living rise during the past two years."

The aldermen referred the matter to the council's Special Negotiating Committee.

16 Traffic Deaths in Area So far in Year

Traffic fatalities for the first four months of this year are at the highest number in recent years, with 16 deaths occurring in 643 traffic mishaps in the Quad-City area.

In addition, 286 persons have been injured on area streets and highways thus far this year.

In April, two deaths were reported on the highways and 84 persons were injured in 187 accidents. Although the number of accidents decreased from 189 in March, the number of injuries increased from 78 to 84 in the same two month period.

Seven fatalities from traffic mishaps were reported in March, six in January and only one in February.

Theft from Auto
John Perillo, 2931 Washington Ave., reported at 7 a.m. Tuesday that during the night someone broke the rear side window of his 1971 auto and stole a tape deck, tapes and an FM multiplex, all valued at $140.

Sabbatical Leaves for 3 Faculty Members

The Granite City District Nine board of education, meeting Monday night, granted sabbatical leaves for the next year to three teachers to further their educations.

Ronald Ward, 2435 State St., an art teacher at Coolidge Junior High School, was granted a leave to attend Eastern Illinois University under the audio-visual intern program to complete his masters degree.

Arthur L. Eardley, Collinsville, a mathematics teacher at the high school, was granted a leave to attend the Academic Year Institute for Teachers of Secondary Mathematics at the University of Cincinnati in Ohio.

Mrs. John (Emmalou) Boyer, 4047 Kathy Drive, Project Lift-Off preschool and kindergarten teacher at McKinley School, was granted a sabbatical leave to attend the Universidad Nacional Altona to study Spanish and anthropology. All leaves were recommended by the sabbatical leave screening committee.

Mrs. Boyer's request was granted under the stipulation she would return to her present position after the leave but would consider transfer to a position of high school or junior high Spanish instructor at a future time.

A leave of absence from June 7 to Nov. 1 was granted to Mrs. Ronald (Mary) Trimmer, 108 Lenox Ave., mathematics and German teacher at Grigsby Junior High School, assuming there is a position open at the time she wishes to return. If no such job is available, she will resume full-time teaching in the 1972-73 school year.

GCBS Accredited
In other business, the school board was informed that accreditation by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools was again granted to the high school at the association's annual meeting March 31.

It was emphasized that a visitation and evaluation just completed is for next year's meeting and was not in granting accreditation in March. The continuation of accreditation listed no violations to be corrected.

The board approved purchase of $50 in soccer equipment to be used this fall and winter.

Previously the board had delayed the purchase of the equipment for further study, since scheduling uncertainties had developed for 1971-72.

Eight requests for summer school programs in the junior high schools were granted by the board on the recommendation of the summer school committee.

The courses approved for this summer were the history of Illinois, electricity, introduction to consumer problems, refrigeration, home maintenance for girls, interior decorating and separate food courses for boys and girls.

State Fair Exhibit
The board granted approval to underwrite expenses for the school district's project in the Illinois State Fair educational project to be submitted to the state superintendent of public instruction and, if accepted, an award of up to $500 is to be granted to help in construction of the display. The board agreed to accept responsibility for project costs over the amount of the award.

Permission was granted to the Group Against Society's Pollution (GASP) to take a field trip to Branson, Mo., May 15 and 16. About 10 pupils will take part in the trip and will pay their own expenses.

Lodges Pretests

Track and field members of the Southern Illinois university-Southwestern team registered pretests with university officials Tuesday over lack of adequate facilities and poor organizations.

In a two-hour session with athletic director Harry Gallatin, track coach Jack Whitted and dean of students Ramon Williamson, the Cougar team emphasized the need for a track and an assistant coach if they are to compete on an intercollegiate level.

A 16-men contingent insisted on at least a temporary track, in addition to adequate equipment as dress sweats, shoes, medication and other essential items.

The team has been competing locally on area high school tracks. The team defeated Principia Tuesday 74-71.

CARING FOR FURS

Give all of your fur items—coats, jackets, collars, hats or trim on other garments—proper care, and they will remain beautiful for many years. Here are some tips on fur care:

Shake furs to fluff them. Don't comb or brush fur.

Keep furs in a cool, dry place, away from heat.

Hang them on broad shouldered hangers. Don't crowd furs in a closet or hang them on hooks.

Avoid pinning jewelry or putting perfume on fur.

Send furs to an expert for cleaning, storage and necessary repairs.

STORING HANDBAGS

Improve storage of handbags can cause them to lose their shape and finish. Here are some suggestions to help you avoid such problems:

—Store all vinyl and patent-leather handbags individually.

—Put several bags into one container can result in their sticking together and damaging the finish.

—For seasonal storage, empty handbags, stuff them with tissue paper and wrap them in a soft cloth or paper.

—Hang pouch-style leather bags when storing them. If left standing for long periods, they may lose their shape.

REPAIR YOUR EVERGREENS

If the recent snow caused your upright evergreens to be deformed you can make simple repairs with a woman's stocking. Use the stocking or a strip of cloth to draw the main stems together. Thread the strip through the branches so it will not show and tie with a common knot. Slight pruning will remove the loose ends and repairs will be complete. Leave the strip in the tree until it rots.

Hand picking the galls will help to control the disease on crabapples. When everyone has Junipers (and the galls) the best protection for your crabapple is a regular spray program. Spray your tree with a fruit tree spray mixture or Fenothion at 7 to 10 day intervals during April and May. Thoroughly wet the tree during each spray application.

Fungus spores blow from the tendrils to nearby crabapples. During the summer orange blotches on apples blight the foliage and usually causes severe leaf drop.

Complete their spring growth before you begin to manage the shape and character you require. Fertilizing the nearby lawn will supply adequate fertilizer for this renewal program.

GALLS ON JUNIPERS

Prune-sized punky galls on Junipers are harmless galls with plenty of potential.

Punky galls on Junipers are one stage of cedar-apple rust fungus on crabapples and hawthornes.

The fungus spreads from these galls on Junipers to crabapples during April showers. Rain causes the galls to produce bright orange jelly-like tendrils.

Grants Sought for Teachers to Attend SIU-SW Summer Conservation Workshop

An all-out effort is under way by the Madison County Conservation Education Committee to raise 60 scholarship grants to enable teachers in Madison County attend a summer workshop, specializing in conservation, to be presented at Southern Illinois University-Western campus.

Area organizations interested in environmental and conservation problems in this region are invited to contribute a scholarship grant to be used by a teacher. Detailed information may be obtained from Fred Stille, 2130 Dewey Ave., or by calling, 876-0317.

Stille, a member of Prather Junior High School faculty and a local delegate to the county conservation Education Committee, said the workshop course, "Regional Problems in Conservation," is designed to help teachers in Madison County meet the requirement that conservation will be taught at all levels in Illinois schools.

It is anticipated that one-half of the schools in the county will be able to send teachers to the summer workshop with the remainder to assign faculty members to attend courses the following summer, Stille explained.

At a meeting of the Conservation Education Committee last week, Dr. Harry B. Kircher of SIU-SW presented details of the planned workshop, noting the course, designated "Geography 424," will carry four quarter-hours of credit on the undergraduate or graduate level.

Dates for the sessions will be July 28 through Aug. 6. Classes will meet from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Friday during the two-week course.

Course Tuition $66
Dr. Kircher said tuition fees will be $66. Cost of the course also includes transportation for field trips. It is hoped a sufficient number of teachers will attend the workshop to permit two sessions to be scheduled simultaneously, the educator said.

Stille said 10 scholarship grants for teachers have been contributed so far to the county committee.

Groups agreeing to provide the tuition costs include Madison County Farm Bureau, three schools: Farm Bureau Women's Committee and the Alton-Wood River Sportsmen's Club, two grants each; and one scholarship each from the Edwardsville Kiwanis Club, Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District and Trinity Lutheran School, Edwardsville. Committee members plan to contact business, industry and service clubs in the Quad-City area within the next two weeks, soliciting funds toward similar scholarship's grants, Stille advised.

Speakers Available
Speakers can be arranged to meet with groups and explain the program, the local teacher added.

Activated last October, the Madison County Conservation Education Committee has worked diligently through the winter months to establish a program for the promotion of conservation.

tion education in Madison County schools, Stille reported.

Such a program is necessary because of legislation enacted by the Illinois General Assembly that affects all schools within the state, he explained.

At the committee's initial meeting, it was decided that teachers within the county did not need another "manual" or "curriculum guide" to teach the course.

Rather, what was called for was a method by which educators could become aware of the need for conservation — "to give them the tools to work such a program into the regular curriculum," Stille said.

60-Teacher Maximum
Result of the planning work accomplished during the winter months is the SIU-SW workshop session in July, the committee member added.

Noting that a maximum of 60 teachers can be accommodated in the 1971 summer course, Stille said the committee elected to secure grants, if at all possible, to cover the tuition fees of each teacher.

Since participation in the instruction program is limited, Stille suggested that local teachers interested in taking the conservation course, contact immediately the principal of their specific school building.

Only one teacher from a given school will be accepted for the initial session, with scholarships awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis, the Prather JHS faculty member, stressed.

FORMER RESIDENTS, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Niehaus, now residing in East St. Louis, who will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary at an outing Sunday.

Former GC Residents Plan 50th Celebration

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Niehaus of East St. Louis, former Granite Cityans, observed their 50th wedding anniversary Wednesday. The couple was married May 5, 1921 in Edwardsville. Before retiring, Niehaus was employed by the J. H. Taylor Moving Co., in Granite City and the couple resided here. They have four children, Robert of East St. Louis; Richard of Madison; Mrs. Barbara Mullen of Dale, Ind., and Mrs. Beverly Williamson of Collinsville. There are also 24 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. An outing for relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Niehaus will be held Sunday from 12 until 6 p.m. at the Lions Shelterhouse at Woodlawn Park, Collinsville.

DR. L. JIM ANTIS, who will be installed as the new minister of Central Christian Church in a contemporary service styled after the marriage ceremony, Sunday. The installation will also feature popular music.

Contemporary Service to Mark Minister's Installation Sunday

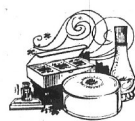

Central Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) will hold its third installation of a new minister in 31 years at 10:45 a.m. Sunday as Dr. L. Jim Anthis becomes married to the congregation. The contemporary installation, based on the marriage ceremony, will be a covenantal service. Specially selected music for the occasion, "Bridge Over Troubled Waters" and "Impossible Dream," will be sung by the choir. Dr. Anthis, 30, earned his Doctor of Religion degree from Southern California School of Theology at Claremont, Calif. His Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Divinity degrees were obtained from Phillips University in Oklahoma. He began his ministry at Aline, Okla., and then served as pastor of the First Christian Church in Pawnee, Okla., while attending graduate school. While studying for his doctorate degree he served as associate minister of the Hollywood-Beverly Christian Church in Hollywood, Calif., where he first began experimenting with new approaches to religious teaching. Later, he was active in organizing the famous "House Church" in Los Angeles. There he tried numerous approaches to religion, including contemporary services utilizing popular music and familiar items in worship. He also urged active religious community involvement.

Since leaving Los Angeles he has served with the State Office of the Disciples of Christ in Oklahoma, where he worked with the American Indians on reservations. He assumed his new duties here Feb. 28. Mrs. Anthis is a practicing registered nurse. The couple are the parents of two daughters, Bonnie Jo, 6 years, and Lora Lynne, 4 years. Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road, was started in 1901 and had an almost annual succession of ministers until 1940 when the Rev. Mason G. Gregg assumed leadership of the congregation. The Rev. Gregg remained as minister until 1957 when the Rev. James Craddock assumed the duties of the pastorate.

LOCAL WOMEN JOIN BOTANICAL GROUP
Mrs. Edward Theis and Mrs. Robert Blankenship were guests of Mrs. George Stearns at the annual herb sale at Shaw's Garden this week. Both ladies are active members of the Garden Study Club. Mrs. Stearns is a member of the Missouri Botanical Garden. Mrs. Theis and Mrs. Blankenship were welcomed as new members. As "Friends of the Garden" their contributions will be used to further the beauty of the garden, to continue research in botany and ecology and provide educational and community services.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kube, 2476 Iowa St., local residents for 47 years, who were honored at a dinner party in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. The photos show the couple at this week's celebration and at the time of their marriage April 30, 1921 in Germany.

Mr. & Mrs. Richard Kube Honored on Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kube, 2476 Iowa St., celebrated their 50th golden wedding anniversary this week at a dinner party given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Fortner, 2343 Namecki Road.

The couple was married April 30, 1921, in Germany. They have resided in Granite City since 1924 when they came to this country from Europe. Mr. Kube retired from Granite City Steel Co. in 1961 after 37 years of service at the local plant.

Following dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Kube were presented many gifts by their friends who gathered to honor them at the Fortner residence. Spring flowers were used to decorate the table and a 50th anniversary cake was served in their honor.

Out-of-town guests attending the party included cousins of the honorees, Mrs. Hedwig Holterbach and Miss Anna Hilbig, both of St. Louis, Mrs. Gertrude Tatzel of St. Louis, Miss Elsie Olbrecht of Chicago, Mrs. Anna Casper of Taylorville, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. George Hornig and family of Florissant, Mo. Local guests were Paul Wildenhoff, Mr. and Mrs. William Bromann and the host couple.

85 Attend Mother-Daughter Banquet

"Music" was the theme of the annual mother-daughter banquet of United Presbyterian Women at First United Presbyterian Church Tuesday evening.

The meal was prepared and served by the Navigators, a couples organization of the church, to 85 members and guests.

Corn Being Planted Early Here to Reduce Blight Risk

By WARREN W. BUNDY

Farmers already have sown thousands of acres of corn planted in Madison County, and at least three farmers had all their 1971 corn acreage planted by late last week.

This probably is the earliest in history that so much corn has been planted here that early in the season.

Farmers are taking the risks of planting so early to minimize the risks of southern corn leaf blight later this summer.

Weather conditions the next two weeks or so will determine whether the risk of early planting was worth taking. Several days of cold, wet weather are what the farmers don't want.

Soil conditions and weather have been favorable so far for early-planted corn.

Farmers follow our reasoning that we do not expect blight to be a major problem early in the season. The fungus is a hot-weather disease and is not expected to be a problem until mid-summer.

Early-planted corn last year did not suffer from blight as much as later corn.

Corn borer survival is lower here than a year ago, but we cannot yet eliminate the corn borer as a potential problem.

I advise farmers to watch corn closely after it comes up for cutworm damage. We have better answers to cutworm problems now than we had a year ago.

But early treatment of infestations as they develop is important.

Alfalfa weevils are present in some alfalfa fields in Madison County in damaging numbers; watch alfalfa fields closely.

Treat fields by ground equipment or by airplane when 25% or more of the tips of the alfalfa plants show feeding and larvae are present.

Farmers ask how soon it is safe to plant corn after they apply anhydrous ammonia. Keeping anhydrous ammonia out of the seed and seedling root zone is safer than trying to calculate how much time must elapse between application and planting.

We have been using the guideline that the point of release of ammonia should be at least five inches below planting depth when 200 pounds of nitrogen is applied in 40-inch spacings on a silt loam soil at the ideal moisture content for tillage.

In that situation you can plant corn immediately after applying anhydrous ammonia. With corn planting progressing so rapidly, some farmers ask how early they can plant soybeans.

Soybeans should be planted in May. The full-season varieties will yield best when planted in early May. Earlier varieties often yield more when planted in late May than in early May.

Housing Board Studies Qualification Change

A possible increase in the maximum income of applicants for housing units is under study by the Granite City Housing Authority, it was reported during a regular meeting of the board Tuesday.

An increase in the income limits would permit a larger number of families to qualify as tenants at the Kirkpatrick Homes, it was pointed out. The size of a family and the family's income are the major points of consideration in qualifying tenants.

The authority also agreed to cooperate with the Neighborhood Youth Corps to provide summer jobs for some youths living in Kirkpatrick Homes.

Sam Fraley, maintenance supervisor, and David Morgan, housing authority director, were attending a two-day maintenance clinic in Mount Vernon today. The program will continue through tomorrow.

Ernest Viehe, chairman of the authority board, said the annual reorganization meeting will be held May 18 to elect a chairman and other officers.

Pastors to Discuss Healing As 'Hospital Week' Begins

Members of the Quad-City Ministerial Association were guests Monday at a breakfast given by St. Elizabeth Hospital to tell the clergy of activities planned for Hospital Week beginning Sunday, May 9.

Guest pastors were asked by Sister Mary Thomas, administrator, to include thoughts on "Healing" in their Hospital Sunday sermons, and to offer prayers for the injured and ill and those who have been entrusted with their care in hospitals or at home.

Assistant Administrator Donald Lenz used "The Key in the Lock" as his theme and said, "The door is always open and our services available to the clergy."

"The spiritual assurance given by the pastors is reflected in the attitudes of our patients, their near ones, and our own employees. The clergy's help is an integral part toward a patient's recovery." Ted Ellerman, assistant administrator, presented slides, "Once Upon a Time."

Ellerman said, "The cost of health care is higher but the strides made by modern medicine have given us more years of productive living, recovery and well-being in place of former hopelessness."

Bank Displays, Demonstrations Activities planned for the community were reviewed by Sister Mary Thomas.

Attention was called to demonstrations on emergency resuscitation to be given by the Inhalation Therapy Department between 1 and 2 p.m. at the four local banks: Monday, May 10, First Granite City National Bank; Tuesday, May 11, Granite City Trust and Savings Bank; Wednesday, May 12, First National Bank in Madison; and Thursday, May 13, American National Bank.

A collage made up of a representative group of the hospital family will be on display at each of the banking institutions during National Hospital Week. Each display is a cross-section of employees, Sisters, medical staff, lay advisory and governing boards, volunteers, Pink Ladies and Candy Strippers.

"It wouldn't be Hospital Week without our pancake supper," Sister Mary Thomas said. "It will be on Monday evening, May 10, in the hospital cafeteria from 5 to 7:30. With all the talk on rising costs, it's a pleasure to say the tickets are $1.25 and 75 cents."

Entertainment was furnished by Miss Angela Grupas who presented two selections on the violin and sang and danced a western number. Ouster Attempt Over, Eagle Park Man Says

The Eagle Park Improvement Association has not resumed efforts to oust Herman Smith from the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, Eddie Salmond, president of the Eagle Park civic group, stressed today.

"Despite some reports, no efforts are being made on my part or by the organization I represent to oust Mr. Smith," Salmond said. "We may differ on several points, but we can now sit down together and talk about these points," he added.

The Eagle Park group, headed by Salmond, last fall picketed the Madison EOC Center and appeared at county anti-poverty commission's meetings asking that Smith be removed from the board. "This is over and there is no continuation of the dispute," the Eagle Park association officer emphasized.

State a Leading Oil Producer, Club Told

Illinois is a leading producer of oil, topping the combined production of Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Michigan, Granite City Rotarians were told Tuesday by Joe A. Dull of Mount Vernon, an independent oil producer active in Southern Illinois drilling and exploration.

Introduced by Rotary President John Polson, the speaker said there are many potential changes in future energy supplies, including use of oil shale and conversion of coal into gas and gasoline. Citing the high cost of drilling for oil and gas reserves, he noted that geologists are used in helping to make site decisions.

Flood control is nothing when compared with trying to live within a budget today.

$70 Radio Stolen

An AM/FM radio valued at $70 was stolen from the auto of Gary Guiness, 2805 Yale Drive, while it was parked at his home during the night, he reported at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

Price on Merchandise Required by City

Granite City council members approved Monday night an ordinance requiring all retail merchants in the city to mark or identify the price of each item offered for sale to the general public.

The ordinance was presented by Paul Schuler, chairman of the Ordinance Committee who explained that the bill had been prepared upon the request of Alderman Clyde Boyd.

In support of the measure, Boyd told the council that "there are various retailers who do not mark the price on items and the customer gets put in the position of bargaining. There are instances where one price is given to one customer and another price to another customer."

Alderman Gerald Partney described the proposed law as "progressive action," pointing out that such ordinances are being passed by an increasing number of cities and villages.

Schuler, who is a druggist, told council members that "as a businessman I can see only one thing wrong with this. I know that in my business there are some things on the floor that cannot be priced immediately, and I can see where a customer might give a retailer some trouble."

Boyd moved for a suspension of the rules to place the bill on final passage. The ordinance was approved unanimously, with all council members present.

City Begins Year With 14 Aldermen on City Council

The Granite City council held its first meeting of its 1971-72 fiscal year Monday night with a membership of 14 aldermen, a reduction of two under the redistricting program initiated two years ago.

The aldermen convened as a "new council" after first calling in session the original membership which included Charles Moerlien, alderman-at-large in Ward Five since 1969. In that meeting Mayor Donald Partney presented Moerlien with a plaque in recognition of his long service in the city government.

Council members then approved results of the recount of Seventh Ward votes made last week, accepted a resolution declaring the election of seven of the aldermen in the April 6 election, and adjourned to terminate the activities of the "old" council.

Although the city has had seven wards since it was restructured from eight wards in 1969, it has had 16 aldermen as a result of statutory provisions permitting "holdover" aldermen to finish out their terms in instances where the number of wards is reduced in mid-term.

Moerlien and Earl Jarrett continued in office as aldermen-at-large because of the redistricting. Jarrett resigned last fall, however, leaving Moerlien as the only remaining alderman-at-large. Moerlien did not seek re-election this year. His term expired April 30.

Moerlien, who retired recently as a railroad engineer after 49 years of service, was an alderman for six years and served four years as mayor of Granite City. He also held posts on the Housing Authority and Public Library Board.

RETIRING ALDERMAN Charles Moerlien, right, a member of the Granite City council 16 years and a former mayor, receives a plaque in recognition of his long service in city government at a meeting of the council. Mayor Donald Partney makes the presentation.

Scholarship Awarded To Harold E. James

The Madison Progressive Women's Federated Club has presented its annual scholarship award to Harold E. James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade James, 109 Weaver St., Venice.

A 1970 graduate of Madison High School, he now is attending Missouri State College. His father is assistant superintendent of Madison Schools.

The scholarship is awarded to a local youth who is enrolled in college and is achieving satisfactory as well as exemplifying high ideals towards good citizenship. James was a high school athlete and received football awards during his four years.

Past scholarship recipients were Iris Griggs, Autumn Emerson, Anna Wilson, Betty Garrett Williams, Janet Smith, Althea English Williams, Barbara Smith, Homer Burt and Carl Marr.

Club officers are Mrs. Clara Floyd, president; Mrs. Artherine Sands, secretary; and Mrs. Rosine Parnell, treasurer.

7 Students Conduct Workshop on Gifted

Seven students from the southwestern campus of Southern Illinois University are conducting a workshop at the 18th annual meeting of the National Association for Gifted Children this week in Chicago.

The students are graduates and undergraduates in the special education department and will present a demonstration workshop for faculty, parents and students on the development of a positive self concept for the gifted child, according to Faye V. Shaffer, assistant professor on the special education faculty.

Prof. Shaffer said the students will perform skits on the theme, "So I'm Unusual", designed to sensitize the group to the problems confronting the gifted child. She said that gifted children include not only the high I.Q. category, but the highly creative and the low productive youngster who has above average abilities.

The seven students are involved in an experimental training program funded by the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. They are Jack Fiene of Belleville, Mar-tha Hickey of Jacksonville, Dede Hodges of Granite City, June Shartzer of Caneyville, Ky., Barbara Thielman of Roxana and Jody Hainsworth and Mimi Zanger of Edwardsville.

Prof. Shaffer is co-chairman for the national meeting and is a member of the board of directors.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED to Harold E. James, student at Missouri State College, by Mrs. Clara Floyd, president of the sponsoring Madison Progressive Women's Federated Club. Looking on are Mrs. Rosine Parnell, treasurer, and Mrs. Artherine Sands, secretary.

Prather Students Tour Museum, Cathedral

A tour of the St. Louis Art Museum in Forest Park was experienced last week by ninth grade art students from Prather Junior High School.

During the educational trip, the local freshmen students also visited the St. Louis Cathedral and inspected the mosaics. The art form exhibited at the Cathedral is considered to be the finest example of religious mosaics in the Western Hemisphere and the most extensive display in the mid-western states.

A box lunch was enjoyed under the trees in Forest Park before the students returned to Granite City.

Those escorting the group were Tony Beaumont, Prather JHS art instructor, and parents.

'Thieves Carnival' Set For Campus May 11-15

Jean Anouilh's "Thieves' Carnival" will be presented May 11-15 by Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's theater group. Curtain time in the Communications Building Theater is 8:15 p.m. Admission is free.

"Thieves' Carnival" is the topsy-turvy story of three charming men devoted to law, a girl and two wealthy, marriageable girls at the famous French vacation town of Venice. The girls are so bored with their fortune-hunting suitors that they fall in love with the thieves and even help them get away with their loot, with resulting hilarious complications.

"The play is colorful, alive and funny—something the entire family can enjoy," according to Jerome Birdman of the Fine Arts Division faculty, who is directing the production. The cast includes Susan Hoerster of Granite City as a housemaid and a dancer.

Wins Academic Honors

Barbara Blattner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blattner, 2905 Yale Drive, will be among 407 Illinois State University students to be recognized for academic achievement at the university's 30th annual Scholastic Honors Day Convocation on May 13. He is a sophomore in elementary education.

Proposed Constitution Rejected at SIU-SW

The proposed student government constitution has been voted down by the student body at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

An option setting the number of student senators at one senator for each 500 students was adopted. The ratio is to be based on the fall quarter enrollment each year.

All five of the student senate incentive proposals were defeated. Proposed incentives or benefits were free activity passes for senate members, special assistance for a senator trying to enter a graduate law or medical school, consideration to pay for unforeseen essentials, discounts on books and school supplies and breakfast to be provided during morning senate meetings.

Eads Bridge, Completed in 1874, 1st Great Crossing of Mississippi

By ROSIE ANDERSON
Region 8 Tourism Council
of Southwestern Illinois

They said it couldn't be done. But the 6,220-foot-long Eads Bridge, spanning the Mississippi between St. Louis, Mo. and East St. Louis, Ill., is living testimony that they were wrong.

In fact, on July 4, 1874, it

Investigators Added to Sheriff's Staff

To reduce the crime rate and number of unsolved cases in Madison County, Sheriff John Maerz has increased the investigative Division of the Sheriff's Department from two to six full-time investigators.

During the period from April 8 to March 26, 1971, a total of 127 cases were assigned to investigative personnel for evaluation and investigation. The total included cases which had been "open" for quite some time.

Forty-one were evaluated as unfounded and, in the opinion of the investigators, required no further research. Fifty-two cases were closed by arrest. Thirty-four cases are still open and are being investigated.

Sheriff Maerz feels it to be a significant achievement as full-time investigators serve as invaluable tools in fighting crime, and the crime rate itself would be reduced because of the increased patrols by uniform personnel, who are not required to follow-up initial investigations.

If the cases evaluated as unfounded are subtracted from the original total of 127 assigned, the number of cases closed by arrest, if projected on a percentage basis, would increase to 60%, which is more than double the national average.

It is apparent that the assignment of additional investigators will accomplish much in the direction of reducing the crime rate in Madison County and it is felt that it will give a greater degree of protection to citizens of the county, Maerz said.

Lakota Day Camp To Open in June

Reservations for day camp at Camp Lakota this summer have been extended to May 15 from May 1, according to the camp director, Mrs. Norma Walton, 732 North 26th Place. Any leader or mother may bring group registrations to Mrs. Walton's home by first phoning. Mrs. Mildred Proffitt, 2603 Nameoki Drive, is co-director of the annual summer camping sessions.

Day camp also is offered to Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors by the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council at several other campsites.

The sessions will be June 14-18, June 21-25 and June 28-July 2 at Lakota and the cost is $8.50, which includes $2.50 for transportation. Bus schedules will be announced at a later date.

The River Bluffs Council program is designed to provide progressive ability in camping with adventure, fun and learning. It is based on the Girl Scout promise and laws, carried into the outdoors, and as such serves girls of all races and religions.

With the help of a trained staff, the girls develop independence and the knack of living close to nature. Funds from the annual cookie sale help finance camping activities and camp development.

Mrs. Walton said training for unit leaders will be set up as soon as reservations are completed.

would be appropriate if someone celebrated this engineering feat, the 100th birthday of the bridge.

The bridge was opened on that Independence Day 97 years ago with a grand celebration by the citizens of St. Louis.

While such celebrations are a thing of the past, the bridge itself belongs not only to the past, but to the vibrant present.

It still stands as sturdy and useful as ever, carrying heavy railroad and highway loadings. The idea of a bridge across the mighty Mississippi was first conceived in the minds of a group of progressive citizens shortly after the Civil War.

The nation had again turned to the building of railroads and, since St. Louis was then the only city west of the Mississippi, it was considered the natural halfway point for a continental railroad.

The railroad, as it turned out, was to become an important part in the construction of the bridge, but it was the idea for a bridge that came first.

In 1865, the state of Illinois had given the Terminal Railroad Association the right to construct a bridge over that portion of Illinois called Illinois Town (now East St. Louis).

It was only natural that the man to build the bridge would be Captain James B. Eads, a retired Army engineer who had gained notoriety up and down the Mississippi.

After long experience in the business of raising snagged boats and ships, he was in possession of facts about the bridge that no other man possessed.

Captain Eads was born in Lawrenceburg, Ind., on May 23, 1820, and since childhood he had shown a great interest in mechanics and engineering.

He worked as a dry-goods clerk and learned many facts about the Mississippi and boats from the customers of the store.

At the age of 22, he formed a partnership with Case & Nelson, boat-builders. This business soon began to prosper and the company became known the length of the Great River.

Then, when the Civil War erupted, Eads put his talents to work for the Union government. He received contracts for the construction of Liberty Ships for the war. These boats were finished in 65 days.

So, in 1867, after the Illinois and St. Louis Bridge Co. was formed and disputes over location and jurisdiction were settled, Eads became the logical choice to engineer the crossing of the world's greatest river.

The first stone was laid on Feb. 25, 1868, but it would be seven years before Eads and his supporters saw their dream become a reality.

Soon after construction of the bridge was under way, opposing factions entered the picture.

The ferry companies, who had monopolized the river traffic, saw their business threatened.

The river men at first succeeded in having the bridge condemned for "interfering with navigation." They claimed the smokestacks of the steamers could not clear the bridge.

But the river men failed to realize the influence of Eads and the president of the bridge company, Dr. William Taussig. These two men immediately went to Washington and met with President Grant.

Grant asked them if the program had been approved by the United States government. If had, and there was nothing that the river men could do from that time on to block the construction of the bridge.

With the bridge again under construction, all was not as easy-going as it should have been.

Damaged steamers had to be cleared and the use of compressed air caused many of the workers to become ill. But Eads handled all of the temporary setbacks with great patience.

Again on March 8, 1871, another disaster faced the builders. A tornado wrecked a steamer and some of the bridge's construction equipment.

But, finally, the construction of the bridge started anew. During the course of construction, Eads had many detractors. Eads had many detractors. Many average people called it "crazy" and "impossible."

Other engineers pronounced it too hazardous. Eads plans called for building the bridge on piers. These plans were assailed and laughed at by many. A rainy engineers.

However, after the initial digging took place and steel bars were put in, much of this criticism was silenced.

For seven years, Eads and his crew of approximately 150 men labored, and, like the bridge, they weathered the storms.

At a cost of $10 million, the bridge was completed in February 1874. There it stood, grey and stately, the first great crossing of the mighty river.

The bridge could boast of a number of firsts: The first extensive use of steel in bridge construction. The first use of hollow ice caissons. She first use of hollow tubular chord members.

One could say in all honesty that the building of the bridge helped open the gateway to the West.

It made possible construction of bridges at Memphis and New Orleans not long afterward.

It eventually helped to evoke a radical change in the conditions of transportation between East and West.

Through the years, the bridge has been left pretty much as it was originally constructed, but in 1920, the directors of the Terminal Railroad Association, which still owns the bridge, voted to spend $5 million for repairs. A large portion of this amount was used to change part of the steel structure to concrete.

However, the original main steel structure to concrete. Today, it is used by railway, automobile, truck and bus traffic, providing easy access to downtown St. Louis from the Metro-East area.

Although the opening of the Veterans Memorial Bridge and the free Poplar Street Bridge to the south have taken revenue from the bridge in recent years, the product of Captain Eads still maintains a certain part of the bridge business.

It still stands as a monument to the originality, courage and genius of the man for whom it was named.

It is likely to last indefinitely and to "endure, as long as it is useful to man," according to the words of James B. Eads stated many years ago.

Piasa Bird--Monster of the Cliffs

By GARY E. WENDLE
Region 8 Tourism Council
of Southwestern Illinois
The majestic cliffs of white limestone still tower above the swiftly flowing Mississippi River. The setting is remarkably the same as in 1673 when Pere Marquette, a Jesuit priest who first explored the Mississippi River to its source, sailed up the Mississippi.
But changes have naturally occurred in the past 300 years. Modern housing has replaced the wigwam of the Indian; cars speed along the scenic highway that runs between the cliffs and the river; and the evil Manitou is gone.

The Piasa Bird, the common name of the Manitou, was a fabulous creature of Indian lore. This flying creature "lived in a cave high above the river and preyed on the flesh of humans."
Piasa means, in the language of the Illini tribe, "the bird that devours men."
The Piasa Bird was first recreated in a painting on the bluffs of the river by the Indians before Columbus landed in the New World.

It was reproduced in the 1920s, again in the 1950s, and most recently in 1964.
All that remains now is a dim, faded image of the 1964 reproduction. However, plans are now being made to once again bring the Piasa Bird back to the white cliffs.

The state of Illinois, according to Pride, Inc., an Alton organization dedicated to beautification, is planning within the next six months to a year to either relocate the present painting or to erect a more permanent bronze replica of the mythical creature.

The new location will be on the McAdams Highway near the Blue Pool, just west of the business district of Alton.
Fascinating Legend
The legend of the Piasa Bird is a fascinating account of an animal that the Illini Indians believed once inhabited a cave in the bluffs.

The 1673 Father Marquette described the painting in his diary:
"They have horns on their heads like those of a deer; a horrible look, red eyes, a beard like a tiger's, a face somewhat like a man's, a body covered with scales."

And so long a tail that it winds all around the body passing above the head and going between the legs, ending in a fish's tail. Green, red and black are the three colors composing the picture."

When Pere Marquette led his expedition up the Mississippi, there were two of the amazing creatures painted on the cliffs.

Used as Decoy
Twenty warriors had been selected to hide in the bushes with poisoned arrows, ready to kill the bird when it attacked their chief.

This plan was the result of a dream that the chief had. He had been fasting and praying to the great spirit for relief from the evil Manitou when the "master of life" revealed to him that the great bird was vulnerable beneath its gigantic wings.
The Piasa Bird was killed and with a loud scream fell into the Mississippi River. The great chief escaped unharmed from the powerful talons of the creature.

The cave in which the Piasa Bird supposedly lived has since been destroyed, but an early explorer of the cave described it:

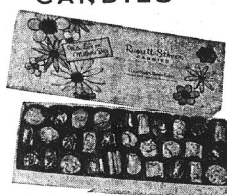

"The floor of this cave throughout its whole extent was a mass of human bones. Skulls and other human bones were mingled together in the utmost confusion."

Violation Charged
Harold Ellis, 56, of Collinsville, was charged with improper lane usage when his auto made a wide sweeping turn at Missouri Avenue and 20th Street during the weekend and struck the left rear of a car operated by Charles Moore, 28, of 2616 W. 26th St.

Among the areas beautified by the club are the city's water treatment plant at the Army Depot, the West Granite fire station and six local schools where trees and shrubs were planted, Mrs. Glenn explained.

A brief business meeting followed the program conducted by Mrs. Pat Malottki, president. Refreshments were served by Leona Wintermeyer, Carol Vene and Ruth Ann Bartels to 27 members and a guest, Mrs. Lillian Meyers, the mother of the pastor's wife, Mrs. Helene Kettiehu.

Among the local environmental and beautification projects sponsored by the Gardenaires are landscaping the West Granite fire station grounds and continuing programs involving a Mini-Garden Information Center, located at the public library, and establishment and maintenance of a city tree nursery at the Water Pollution Control Plant.

The Gardenaires eventually hope to have 500 trees at the nursery on a rotating basis. As the trees grow and are placed in permanent locations, the club will add small saplings in the nursery rows, Mrs. Albert A. Malottki, club president, explained.

Mrs. Earl T. Glenn, Civic Projects chairman for the Gardenaires, said beautification efforts at the West Granite fire station include planting a hedge of 42 Golden Vicary shrubs, four Weigela trees, two mock-orange shrubs, one Blue Spruce and an 8-foot Hackberry shade tree.

County School Handbook for Field Trips Includes 'Mounds' History

The Madison County Curriculum Council, under the direction of Harold E. Briggs, assistant superintendent, Educational Service Region of Madison County, is in the process of developing a field trip handbook for distribution to the public and non-public schools in the fall.

Field trips are considered an integral part of any educational program and the experience assists the teachers and students in rapidly changing learning situations.

"There is one trip to especially highlight as it is close at hand and there is no cost. It is the State Park at Cahokia Mounds," Briggs commented this week. He gave this information on it.

Located midway between Collinsville and East St. Louis, on Business 40, is Cahokia Mounds State Park. This favorite camping and picnic grounds was once the great "Metropolis" of the Indian population of North America, much as New York City is today for us.

This great site at one time supported a population estimated at over 10,000 people, covered about 6 square miles, and contained over 100 various mounds. Monks Mound is the largest of this group and also the largest prehistoric mound in America north of central Mexico. It is totally man-made and covers about 15 acres, rising in four terraces to a height of 100 feet. Part of the site was at one time enclosed by a palisade, or log wall, which ran for about a mile and a half and was used as a defensive fortification. All these factors combined make Cahokia the largest prehistoric Indian settlement in North America.

Cahokia was built by what are called the "Mississippian" Indians. The Mississippian way of life is generally felt to have originated along the Mississippi River, somewhat between St. Louis and Memphis, around 700 A.D. It was distinguished by new pottery making techniques, new house types, functionally different flat-topped mounds.

larger villages, widespread trade and influence, and increased socio-political-religious organization.

Cahokia soon became the focal point for the Mississippian tradition and the mound building endeavors began around 800-900 A.D. Monks Mound also began around 900 A.D., and, after many additions, achieved its final form around 1150 A.D. Although some mounds were used for burials, following the tradition of the preceding Woodland Indians, the majority of the mounds are rectangular and flat-topped. These are often called temple mounds because there used to be structures on the tops of them, and it is felt that these buildings served as religious or ceremonial structures; or they may have served as residences for chiefs or priests.

The importance and influence of Cahokia is demonstrated in the finding of Cahokia made items in Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Wisconsin, to name a few. It is also reflected in the tribute buried with a man who was probably a very important chief. This tribute includes mica from North Carolina, copper from Michigan, shells from the Gulf of Mexico, and arrow points from all over the Midwest. Also buried with this individual were over 170 sacrificial burials, some with their hands and heads cut off, others in mass graves. This must have been a very important, influential and powerful man to receive such tribute from across the country and to be honored by the numerous sacrifices.

Viewing all of the above information, it is possible to grasp the importance of Cahokia and the role it must have played in the prehistoric life of North American Indians.

Bill Isenminger, assistant curator at the Mounds, is organizing a program to make available to the public the above and additional information. He is planning to approach elementary schools in the area, to be available to give illustrated talks, or be available for field trips to the Mounds.

He is also available to any other group that would be interested in hearing more about the Cahokia Site. Those interested are to call him at 344-4750 or 344-5268, or write in care of Cahokia Mounds State Park, East St. Louis, Ill. 62201.

RECEIVING DAR MEDAL as the outstanding cadet in the Air Force ROTC program at Southern Illinois University is Henry W. Reimers III, 2121 Cottage Ave., a senior on the Carbondale campus. Koch, who died a year ago, and his widow presents the medal in the presence of Mrs. Nathan Nagle, chapter regent, and Col. C. R. Carlson, commander of the AFROTC detachment.

Article by GC Student Appears in Magazine

(Editor's note: The following is an article written by Linda Blitch, Granite City High School student, which is published in the May issue of Illinois History, a magazine for young people. The issue is devoted to "Conserving Our Natural Environment" and the article is entitled "What One Company is Doing".)

Air pollution is a major problem in our society today. In southern Illinois, the Granite City Steel Co. is doing something to solve our pollution problems. It is supporting many new research and production tests concerning air and water pollution.

A great investment of money and time in pollution control facilities has resulted in tremendous improvement. The receipt of Granite City Steel is encouraging. The company has spent more than $3 million for a treatment system to cool and clean water that has been used by the plant.

More than 80 million gallons of waste water a day are treated in a series of isolation ponds and stabilization lagoons covering 375 acres. The steel plant considers this system one of the most effective ones in the industry. When the water is finally discharged, it is of a higher quality than it was when it was taken from the Mississippi River.

In 1967 a major step toward cleaning waste gases from the plant was developed. This is the $3,500,000 gas-cleaning system for the new basic oxygen-steel-making furnaces. The furnaces replaced the company's old open-hearth furnaces, which emitted great quantities of orange-colored dust.

The gas cleaning system cools gas from temperatures approaching 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit as it leaves the furnace, to about 450 degrees as it enters the precipitators where more than 99% of the dust is removed. The pollution control officials believe that the gas-cleaning system accounts for a 60% reduction in industrial wastes in Madison County.

All the steam-generating facilities at Granite City Steel Co. have been converted from coal to natural gas. Fuel oil is only a standby fuel. Slab-heating furnaces burn only natural gas.

For the disposal of paper and wood waste, the company operates its own landfill dump. No open burning is allowed.

The Granite City Steel Co. is trying to give hope to future generations in our area of the state with its program of eliminating air and water pollution. The company wants to conserve our natural resources and establish a better environment for everyone.

With the Granite City Steel Co. and many other similar companies working on this serious problem, we may one day eliminate or at least control some of the air and water pollution. (From an interview with Kenneth Graham, Granite City Steel Co.)

Cubmaster Andy Timko welcomed all and led in the Pledge. Mrs. Myrna Geisler introduced the other den mother, Mrs. Jean Stanfill, and the den mother assistants, Mary Ann Stanfill of Den 2 and Debbie Vasiloff of Den 1. The leaders and assistants, dressed in Indian garb, began the pageant with an Indian sign language presentation.

Pre-Hospital Week Tour of Nearly-Finished 8-Story Addition

NEW HOSPITAL WING OF St. Elizabeth Hospital is nearing completion.

At upper left is the nursery-maternity floor, showing an area containing infant examining rooms.

At upper right is the covered area where vehicles can bring emergency patients; heating units in the ceiling of the drive-in area will prevent possible chills as the ill or injured are removed from ambulances.

At the left (from left to right) are Paul Halbert, Press-Record general manager, and Mrs. Valerie Evenden, women's editor, with four hospital officials, Ernest E. Vohli, development director; Mrs. Marge Wheeler, public relations director; Sister Mary Thomas, administrator; and Sister Willemene, administrative resident. The administrator is showing a corridor alcove where linen carts can be kept.

Next scenes at the left are an elevated bathtub, where a patient could be more easily assisted (basins not shown, are designed to accommodate wheelchair patients) and Sister Willemene with an automatic system for the transfer of sealed trays containing medical supplies to the correct floors.

In the next picture on the right, those viewing the decor of the top floor are (left to right) Ted Ellerman, assistant administrator of the hospital; William F. Winter, editor of the Press-Record; and Hopper, Mrs. Evenden and Mrs. Wheeler.

April's Showers May Bring Few Flowers

April showers bring May flowers, or so the old saying goes, and if a lack of May flowers is noticed in the Quad-Cities it may be blamed, in part, on the lack of April showers.

During April only 1.14 inches of rain or snow fell, compared to the 3.71 inches which is normal for the month.

Two showers of one-half of an inch each on April 6 and 21. Other rainfall included .02 of an inch on April 1 and .06 on the April 14 and a trace of precipitation on the 27th and 28th of April. The only other precipitation was .09 of an inch of snow (water equivalent) which fell on April 5.

April was the second consecutive month in which less than the normal amount of rain fell. In March, only 1.31 inches of rain were reported, 1.03 inches below normal for that month. Rainfall so far this year is 6.74 inches compared with an average of 10.07 inches in the first four months of past years.

DUAL BIRTHDAY PARTY
A weekend birthday celebration was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schwertmann, 2400 Lincoln Ave., for their children, Frankie, who was seven years old on May 1, and Joan, who will be five May 11. The lawn party carried out the birthday motif in the table decorations with streamers and multicolored balloons.

The honorees received many gifts and games were played, with prizes awarded to Jamie Deloic, Kathy Miller, Tammy Adams and Kelly Stotz. Pictures were taken of the festivities and the guests sang. An aunt of the honored guests, Mrs. Jo Ann Schwertmann, assisted in serving a dessert course to those mentioned and Mrs. Wilma Andrews and daughters, Phyllis and Linda, Laura Naler, Bridgette Fry and Susan Dickerson.

GIRL SCOUTS PLAN HIKE
An election was held and three patrols were formed by Junior Girl Scout Troop 492 as it met with the leader, Mrs. Shippy Kidman, 2916 Faith Ave., in her home for a week-end session. Louise Holloway was elected secretary and Rhonda Crouch, treasurer.

New patrols, leaders, assistants and scribes are: Pink Panthers, Robin Saltgaver, Sharon Werner and Cathy Boone; Roses Patrol, Rhonda Crouch, Jackie Thomas, and Carol Ann Kidman; and Cinderella patrol, Christy Peach, Louise Holloway and Susan Thomas.

The troop decided to hike to Wilson Park this week. Mrs. Kidman said they will need sack lunches and are to wear sport clothes. The scouts made May baskets out of bottle caps, melted wax and artificial flowers.

The program closed with singing. Others attending were Debbie Handlon, Laura Holloway, Janet Nunes, Tammy Smith, Dawn Glass and Kim Stringer.

Challenge to 2 GOP Senate Seats Apparently Fading

By IRA TEINOWITZ
Press-Record Springfield
Correspondent

The role of challenges to the Senate seats of two Republicans appears to have faded to nothing.

Both Sen. Donald Carpenter (R-East, Mo.) and Sen. Meade Baltz (R-Joliet), now appear to be safe from losing their seats.

Both challenges have been playthings for the Democrat-controlled Senate and rumors abounded that Democrats would use the challenges to force unyielding Republicans to fall into line on reappointment, adds to the CTA (Chicago Transit Authority) or a variety of other issues.

But with testimony in both cases just about complete, neither has proved a significant enough fraud to overturn the election. Democrats are afraid that if they overturn the election despite a lack of evidence, they may incur the wrath of area residents.

Could Be Embarrassing

Two other factors must enter into the Democrats' decision on what to do. First, Republicans have threatened to take the case to court. If Democrats overturn the elections, if Democrats don't have the evidence to back up their decision it would be quite embarrassing.

Second, if the Democrats, in control now, throw out a Republican this year, what would happen when Republicans are back in control?

Democrats are afraid any attempt to throw out a Republican could result in a cycle of continuous challenges that would cause nothing but hard feelings.

The situation is not without its paradoxes. The Democrats desperately need another vote. Although the Senate is split 29 to 20, Democrats have had the advantage because Senate Minority Leader W. Russell Arrington, R-Evanston, has been in the hospital recovering from a stroke. Arrington is expected to return to the legislature shortly.

Simon Vote Limited

Although Democratic Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon can vote on amending bills, a ruling by Republican Attorney General William Scott prevents him from voting on bills themselves.

If the Democrats were to accept one of the challenges they would have a clear advantage in this session. But the result could keep the Democrats out of power in the future.

Escapee Apprehended
By Madison Police

Lawrence Bailey, 24, who police said is one of six men who escaped from the St. Francis County Jail in Missouri April 29, was apprehended by Madison police at 8:30 p.m. Monday in an apartment at 35 Garcesch Homes, Madison.

Bailey allegedly is wanted in Missouri for jail break, auto theft, common assault and a commitment to the Missouri State Penitentiary for parole violation.

Police apprehended him after they received an anonymous phone call informing them he was in the apartment.

Two Men Arrested

William Karius, 33, of 2041 Edison Ave., and Andrew Wiley, 25, of 2123 Washington Ave., were arrested at 1:30 a.m. Tuesday at Curtis's Grill, 16th Street and Madison Avenue, on charges of theft of less than $150, after a shovel and a broom were stolen from the basement and placed in the trunk of their car.

Registration Now for Kindergarten Urged

Parents of children who will begin kindergarten next September are urged to register their children for classes if they have not already done so.

Arrangements to register children may be made by calling the elementary school the child will attend. Questions concerning which school a child will attend can be answered by Dale C. Rea, assistant to the superintendent, at 876-6000.

Superintendent J. D. Davis stressed the importance of a complete registration in school district planning. The number of children registered last week is almost 300 less than last year.

Obviously, this makes a difference in the number of teachers and room needed. Superintendent Davis said.

In urging cooperation to secure a complete registration, Davis said that it is in the public interest both as taxpayers and parents that the school district be able to accurately anticipate needs for this program.

Any child who will be 5 years of age on or before Dec. 31, this year is eligible to enroll in kindergarten class. Kindergarten classes are half day sessions and are held at each local elementary school. A birth certificate should be presented at the time of registration and must be presented before actual attendance can begin in the fall. Physical examination and immunization requirements will be explained at the time of registration.

'Grass' Proves to be Grass, Case Dismissed

A charge of unlawful sale of marijuana against Adolph F. Der, 18, of 2938 Morgan Ave., was dismissed Monday in Madison County Circuit Court as being unfounded.

A state laboratory analysis showed that "grass" he allegedly sold to a state undersecretary was ordinary lawn grass.

Some of the other suspects in the raids are set for jury trials beginning Monday in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

This is Foley's tenth term as Chairman and Landolt's ninth.

A county code for mobile home parks was approved by the Madison County Board of Supervisors. The new code updates the present mobile home ordinance and gives licensing and inspection authority to the county.

The annual trailer court license under the new code will be $50, along with a fee of $10 for each trailer pad in the court. The code also requires that trailer pads be at least 20 feet wide and 40 feet long, nearly double the size of pads in mobile home parks in the county. The code becomes effective on July 1.

The rezoning of a 25-acre tract of land for a shopping center was approved by the St. Clair County Board of Supervisors. By a vote of 37 to 1, the board upheld a recommendation for rezoning by the County Zoning Board.

The report by an outside consultant for the project, Leo A. Daly, concluded that the proposed use of the property was consistent with good land use and planning principles.

Earnings of $1 a share for the first quarter of this year were announced by the Laclede Steel Co. The company also indicated that the second and third quarters of this year will also be profitable.

It was reported that the company plans to stop making steel joists in May of this year.

First-quarter earnings at Granite City Steel Co. were 31 cents a share, while at Alton Box Board, net income for the first quarter was four cents a share.

An election for trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District is being held this week. A ruling on allowing a runoff election for the trustees of the district will be given May 10. The special levee district election is to replace four levee district trustees who have been convicted of misconduct and to fill a position left vacant by the death of a trustee.

In other levee district news, a bill calling for splitting the East Side Levee and Sanitary District into two separate districts was introduced in the Illinois House by three Madison County representatives.

The Granite City Council approved an ordinance rezoning a tract of land to allow the construction of 126 homes, and annexation of the site to the city was approved by the council. The homes are to be built by the Dale Construction Co. under the "223" section of the Federal Housing Act.
